Message from the Chancellor

Dear UW-Stout Alumni:

It has been an honor for me to serve as your Chancellor for the past 22 years. Those years have represented a formidable time of change in higher education as we have faced the forces of technology, the economic variables, and greater competition in times of demographic change.

But I hope you are as proud as I of the ways UW-Stout has managed these changes and emerged a stronger and more respected institution. Our national Malcolm Baldrige Award received in 2001 continues to define us in both the higher education community and beyond. Because of our continued attention to the quality improvement the Baldrige Award recognized, we were pleased to see a dramatic jump in our standings in the annual US News college and university rankings, to the first tier of institutions. That organization, and the peer group ratings involved, clearly recognize UW-Stout's rising quality.

After careful planning and a long discussion and debate, we decided as a campus to seek the designation that clearly defines who we are and how we are different from other state universities. In March, 2007 the Board of Regents designated UW-Stout as Wisconsin's Polytechnic University and in so doing, put us in a class with such universities as Cal Poly San Luis Obispo, Rochester Institute of Technology, Virginia Tech, Clemson University and even MIT. We built the designation on four pillars: the Discovery Center for applied research, a robust honors program, an Ethics Center and an incubation program to develop new, cross-disciplinary programs. The Discovery Center, opened on July 1, 2009, and the Ethics Center are supported by generous private gifts of well over four million dollars. The incubation center has underwritten the planning of over fifteen new programs and the Honors Program will have nearly 200 participants this fall. All of this is built on our rich tradition of applied experiential learning; strong outreach programs that top the private sector; and a continued, sharp focus on educational excellence in the classroom and laboratory.

We have a very bright future and we invite you to continue to participate. Your strong support over the years has been significant and a key to our success. An active alumni organization and willingness to support UW-Stout will assure the future generation of graduates the same quality of education that you received and the same chance of professional success that you have had.

Thanks for the support and I hope that you are as proud of being a graduate as I am in serving you as Chancellor of UW-Stout.

Sincerely,

Charles W. Sorensen
Chancellor

Message from the President of the Alumni Association Board of Directors

Dear UW-Stout Alumni:

On behalf of your Alumni Association, I want to thank you for your continued involvement in and support of your alma mater. You are part of an exceptional, dynamic and ever growing group of individuals.

Thank you, also, for taking time to update your records and keeping us informed of your contact information; by doing so, you keep our alumni association strong and active. The association is a network of over 66,000 alums, from all parts of the world. This directory has been revised and updated to assist you in maintaining contact with friends, former classmates and the expanding network of alumni regardless of your geographical location.

As you keep in touch with other alumni, please remember to keep in touch with the Stout Alumni Association office as well. If you find yourself in the Menomonie area, I encourage you to stop by the alumni office. Please consider networking with alumni from your area at regional gatherings; forwarding your updates for inclusion in our online class notes; joining your UW-Stout Association Facebook and Linkedin sites; returning to campus for your class reunion; planning a mini reunion with Stout friends (the alumni office will be happy to work with you to arrange a campus tour); returning for Homecoming....or just to visit.

Wherever your life and career has taken you – I hope you will stay in touch with your Alumni Association so we can keep you in touch with Stout.

Sincerely,

Jeff Baryenbruch, President
Board of Directors
UW-Stout Alumni Association

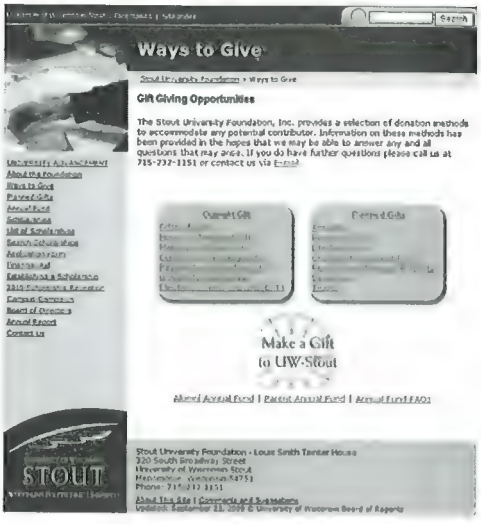
Ways to Support UW-Stout

Gifts of Cash

The most popular form of giving to the Stout University Foundation is a gift of cash, which may include personal check, credit card, electronic funds transfer from your financial institution or money order, all of which should be made payable to the Stout University Foundation, Inc. Cash contributions are deductible and provide federal and state tax savings. The higher your income tax bracket, the lower the net cost of your contribution.



Benefits of a Cash Gift

- The opportunity to give an immediate gift to the Stout University Foundation, Inc.
- An immediate charitable tax deduction

Corporate Matching Gifts

Many companies encourage employees to make charitable gifts through the corporate matching gift program. Many companies agree to match personal donations with an equal or greater corporate contribution. Be sure to check with your company to see if your gift qualifies for a corporate match.

Benefits of the Corporate Matching Gift Program

- The opportunity to maximize your gift to the Stout University Foundation, Inc.
- An opportunity for employee and employer to work together for the mutual benefit of the university
- An immediate charitable tax deduction

Gifts of Stock

Gifts of appreciated securities to the Stout University Foundation, Inc. may be an advantageous choice for donors. By gifting appreciated securities, individual donors receive a charitable deduction equal to the fair market value of the securities and will avoid capital gains taxes.

Benefits of a Gift of Stock

- The opportunity to give a substantial gift to the Stout University Foundation, Inc.
- The avoidance of capital gains taxes

Gifts of Personal Property

A gift of tangible personal property, such as art, rare books, collections, etc. entitles you to a charitable contribution of full fair market value of the gift if it complies with the standard of related use. In other words, the item(s) must be related to the university's mission and can be used to further the university's teaching, research, or other directly related activities. The IRS has appraisal rules which you must adhere to when making this type of gift.

Benefits of a Gift of Personal Property

- Opportunity to make a unique and substantial gift to the Stout University Foundation, Inc. which can be a significant learning, teaching, and research tool
- An immediate charitable tax deduction
- An opportunity to avoid capital gains taxes on property donated

Deferred Gifts

Deferred gifts are gifts which will be received by the Stout University Foundation, Inc. in the future. There are a number of different ways deferred gifts can be structured depending on the need and wants of the individual donor. Gifts can be a bequest in a will or a gift to provide life income for the donor and/or beneficiary.

Wills

A will is the most common form of deferred gift. There are four different types of bequests that can be made including:

Restrictive Bequest

A bequest, just as a current gift, can be restricted for a specific purpose.

Unrestrictive Bequest

The unrestrictive bequest offers great flexibility for future needs because the gift can be used for the university's greatest need at the time the bequest becomes available.

Endowed Bequest

Restricted or unrestricted bequests can be set up as a memorial endowment. The endowed fund principal is preserved, and only the income is used for the intended purposes.

Contingent Bequest

Stout University Foundation, Inc. can be named as contingent beneficiary, in case the initial beneficiary predeceases the donor. If an individual does not have a contingency heir named, the state could end up with all the assets of the estate. Naming the Foundation as a contingent beneficiary is a way to ensure that assets do not get caught up in probate.

Benefits of Bequests

- Gifts are 100% tax deductible
- The opportunity to give a substantial gift to the Foundation
- The opportunity for the Foundation to plan for the future

Trusts

Charitable Remainder Trusts provide the donor with the ability to make a charitable contribution of long-term capital gain property while retaining the trust's income stream for either a term of years or for life.

Long term capital gain property enters the trust at its current fair market value. There is no tax on the capital gain. A portion of the assets transferred to the trust is an income tax charitable deduction.

Benefits of the Trusts

- The ability to make a substantial gift in support of the University of Wisconsin-Stout
- An immediate charitable tax deduction for a portion of the trusts principal value based on trust provisions and the age of the beneficiaries
- Estate tax savings
- The avoidance of capital gains taxes
- Increased income by converting low income assets to high income assets
- Income for yourself and your spouse and/or named beneficiaries

Designating Your Gift

Planned gifts may be designed for any purpose which fulfills an educational function and is approved by the Stout University Foundation Board of Directors. All gifts are very important to the future of the university. Unrestricted gifts afford the opportunity to utilize the funds in the area of the greatest need. Donors who invest in an unrestricted gift realize that their gift will be put to the best possible use by the university to meet its most important need at that time.
